

weekend

---

arts & entertainment

Jennifer M. Dobbs, editor (909) 793-3221

One of Marc Piron's "Havana Heads" photos.

One of Marc Piron's "Havana Heads" photos.

This photo by Marc Piron, part of his "Havana Heads" series, received an honorable mention in the fifth annual Black and White Spider Awards.

Honors for Redlands photographer

• Two of Marc Piron's 'Havana Heads' photos are nominated for best portraits in the Black and White Spider Awards

REDLANDS — Redlands-based portrait photographer Marc Piron recently learned that two photos from his "Havana Heads" series have been nominated for best portrait in the fifth annual Black and White Spider Awards.

One of the photos received an honorable mention.

Piron's "Havana Heads" photos are on exhibit through February at the Cafe Royal/Fox Coffee, 101 Cajon St., Redlands.

Piron's "Havana Heads" photos are street portraits shot in Havana, Cuba, in April and May 2008. He said the lack of Western comfort is very noticeable in the faces he photographed.

The Black and White Spider Awards is among the most prestigious international competitions in the photography industry. For more information, visit www.thespiderawards.com/.

Marc Piron's "Havana Heads" photos are on exhibit at Cafe Royal/Fox Coffee in Redlands.

Courtesy photo